Farewell

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name.
Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
For Thine is the Kingdom, the power and the glory,
for ever and ever. Amen.

Recessional Music

'Yesterday Once More' by the Carpenters

“He was my first OC in the SASC and always struck me as a very fine gentleman indeed, one of the ‘old school’” John Whitchurch

“A gentleman and well respected SASC Officer” Andy Riddell

“One of the finest gentlemen to have served in the SASC. He provided me with the very best guidance and tutoring whilst I was serving in the Falkland’s as a rookie staff officer. No question was too much trouble for him” Anthony Harveson

“I first met your father when he came to watch my final TP as a phase 1 candidate, he continued as my OC for phase 2 and all my time in J/NCO Div. A fantastic man and brilliant at handling end of course discussions” Paul Cody

“He was not only a brilliant instructor and manager of men, but a thoroughly decent man. He was one of the reasons I joined the SASC” Jim McDougall

“Alan was the SMI SAW when I was on my probationer’s course in 1972, he was one of the nicest men you could hope to meet, something he carried throughout his career in the SASC and after. What I certainly remember is that no matter where he was he would always seek us out. When I was promoted to CI SASC Alan was one of the first to write and congratulate me, very special. There are many things I remember about Alan, but something that always stuck in my mind was his love of golf, at one of our study periods he explained how he applied the principles of marksmanship to golf. He will be missed by many, but the same people will also hold long and lasting memories of Alan” Graham Lacey

*Dad, we hope you can see how much we looked up to you.
We hope we are the people you wanted us to be.
We wish we can stand out from the crowd.
We hope we made you proud.*
