Feel No Guilt In Laughter

Feel no guilt in laughter, she knows how much you care,
Feel no sorrow in a smile that she's not here to share.
You cannot grieve forever, she would not want you to,
She'd hope that you would carry on, the way you always do.
So, talk about the good times and the ways you showed you cared,
The days you spent together, all the happiness you shared.
Let the memories surround you, a word someone may say
Will suddenly recapture a time, an hour, a day,
That brings her back as clearly, as though she were still here,
And fills you with the feelings that she is always near.
For if you keep those memories, you will never be apart,
And she will live forever, locked safely within your heart.

POEM

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road, and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room; why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little, but not for long and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that once we shared; miss me, but let me go.

For this is a journey that we all must take, and each must go alone.
It's part of the master plan, a step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sad at heart, go to the friends we know,
Bury your sorrows in doing good; miss me, but let me go.
