Closing Poem

At Rest

Think of me as one at rest,
For me you should not weep.
I have no pain, no troubled thoughts,
For I am just asleep.
The living, thinking me that was
Is now forever still,
And life goes on without me now,
As time forever will.

If your heart is heavy now
Because I've gone away,
Dwell not long upon it, friend,
For none of us can stay.
Those of you who liked me,
I sincerely thank you all,
And those of you who loved me,
I thank you most of all.

And in my fleeting lifespan,
As time went rushing by,
I found some time to hesitate,
To laugh, to love, to cry.
Matters it now if time began,
If time will ever cease?
I was here, I used it all,
And now I am at peace.

Introduction

Civil Funeral Celebrant, Rebecca White

Poem

I don't quite recall the day the mist set in,
When the sun began to fade and the light became dim.

I'll never understand how it could ever be
That the ones I'd known forever now looked like strangers to me,
Or how my logic and my reason had somehow left my mind,
And the memories that I once cherished had just got left behind.

But now the mist has lifted, and in front of me I see
A path that is clear that will lead me back to me.

A light that is shining to guide me on my way,
And a lifetime of memories as down to rest I lay.
