Welcome and Introduction

Poem

Reunited

Years ago I knew you,
It seems so long ago,
When I was young, as you were too,
All those years before.

As if you never left me,
You never left my side,
As if time never passed us,
But oh the time did fly.

I miss the way it was,
When it was you and I and them,
But I love how it is now,
When it is you and I again.

Poem

My Mum

I am here today to remember you and say
I am what I am because of you.
If I cried, then so did you.
When I could crawl and almost walk, it was all to follow you.
When I talked, I even sounded like you
And the mirror said I even looked like you.

Now I'm older I didn't need you.
But every day I thought of you.
As time ticks by I've learned the wisdom of you.
Year by year and as I get older, so do you.
The old photos show to everyone the real you.

Dad has already gone now, and it was tough on you.
I tried to care and look out for you.
Just to visit and say, 'How are you?'
The TV's on, we watched the soaps, which were loved by you,
We always had a brew together making the day for you.

My heart is sad and my eyes weep for you.
I know today and every day I will miss you
And will always remember you,
So goodbye, Mum, and thank you.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be Thy name;
Thy Kingdom come;
Thy will be done
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For Thine is the Kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever.
Amen.
