The Unknown Shore

Sometime at Eve when the tide is low,
I shall slip my moorings and sail away,
With no response to a friendly hail,
In the silent hush of the twilight pale,
When the night stoops down to embrace the day
And the voices call in the water's flow.

Sometime at Eve when the water is low,
I shall slip my moorings and sail away.
Through purple shadows
That darkly trail o'er the ebbing tide
And the Unknown Sea,
And a ripple of waters to tell the tale
Of a lonely voyager, sailing away
To mystic isles,
Where at anchor lay
The craft of those who had sailed before
O'er the Unknown Sea
To the Unknown Shore.

A few who watched me sail away
Will miss my craft from the busy bay;
Some friendly barques were anchored near,
Some loving souls my heart held dear
In silent sorrow will drop a tear;
But I shall have peacefully furled my sail
In mooring sheltered from the storm and gale,
And greeted friends who had sailed before
O'er the Unknown Sea
To the Unknown Shore.
