READING
'Our revels now are ended'
from The Tempest, Act 4, Scene 1
William Shakespeare

Our revels now are ended. These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits and
Are melted into air, into thin air:
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.

THE LORD'S PRAYER
Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be Thy name;
Thy Kingdom come;
Thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For Thine is the Kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever.
Amen.

CLOSING WORDS AND FINAL THOUGHTS

READING
Farewell To Friends

It was beautiful as long as it lasted,
The journey of my life.
I have no regrets whatsoever,
Save the pain I'll leave behind.

Those dear hearts who love and care...
And the strings pulling at the heart and soul...
The strong arms that held me up
When my own strength let me down...

At every turning of my life I came across good friends;
Friends who stood by me,
Even when the time raced me by.

Farewell, farewell my friends,
I smile and bid you goodbye.

No, shed no tears, for I need them not -
All I need is your smile.

If you feel sad do think of me,
For that's what I'll like.
When you live in the hearts
Of those you love, remember then
You never die.

Rabindranath Tagore
