The background of the entire page is a soft-focus photograph of dandelions. The top half of the image is dominated by a warm, golden-yellow glow, likely from sunlight filtering through the scene. Below this, the dandelions are in various stages of being blown away. Some are still in their seed heads, while others have their seeds fully dispersed, appearing as delicate, starburst-like shapes against the lighter background. The overall mood is peaceful and nostalgic.

Order of Service

Led by civil celebrant, Mark Andrew

Those we love don't go away,
They walk beside us every day.
Unseen, unheard, but always near,
Still loved, still missed and very dear.
Words and times no longer shared,
But in our hearts, they are always there.

God bless you, Karon

Welcome and Introduction

Comforting Words

Poem

She Is Gone

You can shed tears that she is gone,
Or you can smile because she has lived.
You can close your eyes and pray that she'll come back,
Or you can open your eyes and see all that she's left.
Your heart can be empty because you can't see her,
Or you can be full of the love you shared.
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.
You can remember her and only that she's gone,
Or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.
You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back.
Or you can do what she'd want, smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

Closing Words

Committal

Poem

Feel no guilt in laughter, she'd know how much you care,
Feel no sorrow in a smile that she is not there to share.
You cannot grieve forever and she wouldn't want you to.
She'd hope that you can carry on the way you always do.
So, talk about the good times and the way you showed you cared,
All the days you spent together and all the happiness you shared.
Let her memories surround you, because one word someone will say
Will suddenly re-capture a time, an hour, a day,
That will bring her back as clearly as though she were still here
And fill you with the feeling that she is always near.
So, if you keep your moments, you can never truly be apart,
Because Karon will stay forever, locked safely in your heart.
