You'll Never Walk Alone

Welcome

The background features a light blue gradient with faint, stylized musical notes and a large, prominent treble clef on the left side. The notes are scattered across the page, some appearing to float or be part of a larger melodic line.

Poem

Let Me Go by Christina Rossetti

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room;
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little, but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared;
Miss me, but let me go.

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick of heart,
Go to the friends we know,
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds;
Miss me, but let me go.

Londonderry Air (Danny Boy)

The background of the page is a light blue and white gradient. On the left side, there are faint, stylized musical notes and a large treble clef. The notes are scattered across the page, with some appearing to be on a staff. The treble clef is positioned in the lower-left quadrant, with its stem extending upwards and its hook curving to the right. The overall aesthetic is clean and musical.
