

In Loving Memory
of

John Henry Blackwell

29th December 1930 - 28th January 2018

A photograph of a jockey riding a brown horse during a race. The jockey is wearing a yellow and orange top and a yellow helmet. The horse is galloping on a track. The number '3' is visible on the jockey's saddle cloth. The background shows a blue sky with white clouds and a white fence.

WELCOME AND OPENING WORDS

POEM
Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo, whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave when my life is done.

POEM

Feel No Guilt In Laughter

Feel no guilt in laughter, he'd know how much you care.
Feel no sorrow in a smile that he is not here to share.
You cannot grieve forever; he would not want you to.
He'd hope that you could carry on the way you always do.
So, talk about the good times and the way you showed you cared,
The days you spent together, all the happiness you shared.
Let memories surround you, a word someone may say
Will suddenly recapture a time, an hour, a day,
That brings him back as clearly as though he were still here,
And fills you with the feeling that he is always near.
For if you keep those moments, you will never be apart
And he will live forever locked safely within your heart.
