23rd Psalm

(King James Version)

The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:

he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul:

he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,

I will fear no evil: for thou art with me;

thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:

thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:

and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

A Reading on

The Way and Character of Love

Taken from

1 Corinthians 13

Now I will show you the most excellent way!

Love is endlessly patient, and most kind.

Love does not envy, nor does it boast; it is not proud.

Love does not dishonour others and is not self-seeking.

This love is not easily angered but is endlessly forgiving,

for it keeps no record of our wrongs.

Then love does not delight when evil prevails

but rejoices when the truth wins through.

For love has always sought to protect us, always trusted in us,

always hoped for us.... always endured alongside us.

Indeed, love never fails....for love is strong,
stronger than death....and It will not come to an end.

Now these three remain: faith, hope and love.

But the greatest of these is love.

Poem

“I Have come Home”

My time here on earth is now complete,
all the noise and the clamour, the joy and the pain,
the powerful life force that drove me onwards
has slipped away into the quiet of eternity,

From now on, I will dance through your memories
threading thoughts of love through your heart.
The pain of loss will gradually ease, and the sadness will lift.
the days will be lighter, and the nights not so long.

When you walk , you will feel me
in the gentle touch of the breeze on your face,
in the sunlight dappling the forest floor,
in the murmur of the branches high above you.

But I have returned to the place from whence I came,
and unto to the elements that created me.
The earth that gave me the life I so loved has now welcomed me back to herself

I have found my resting place.
I have come home...I am at peace

Christmas Carol

“Silent Night”

sung by

The Winchester Cathedral Choir

Silent night, Holy night
All is calm, all is bright
Round yon virgin Mother and Child
Holy infant so tender and mild
Sleep in heavenly peace
Sleep in heavenly peace

Silent night, holy night
Shepherds quake at the sight
Glories stream from Heaven afar
Heavenly hosts sing Hallelujah
Christ the Saviour is born
Christ the Saviour is born

Silent night, holy night
Son of God, love's pure light
Radiant beams from Thy holy face
With the dawn of redeeming grace
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth
