POEM

She Is Gone

by David Harkins

You can shed tears that she is gone,

Or you can smile because she has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that she will come back,

Or you can open your eyes and see all that she has left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see her,

Or you can be full of the love that you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,

Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember her and only that she is gone,

Or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind,

Be empty and turn your back,

Or you can do what she would want:

Smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

Party Time

by Lou Szymikow

Oh bugger this dying business,
I'll tell you it's not for me,
I'd rather be out and partying till three.
A drink, a laugh, a dance across the floor,
Life is for living, not for a bore.
Yeah, so what, I've been called away,
And yes, I know I cannot stay,
But wasn't it fun while it lasted?

The singing and dancing and music blasted.
When you hear that thunder, think of me,
That'll be me and the Angels dancing with glee.
And so, a toast to you, and to all,
Live your lives, and have a ball.

I loves you all, yeah, I do,
And I hope you loved me through and through,
'Cause it's party time again,
And so have a drink for me,
I hope you'll be dancin' till 3.
