INTRODUCTION AND WELCOME

MEMORIES OF GRANDMA

by Zac and Nathan

POEM TO GRANDMA

read by Nathan

What can you say?
To make someone believe
That what your feeling is true?
To help them move on
And believe in theirselves
And start living their life anew.

To win a heart,
That's shattered to bits
And lost without a trace.
When you can't sleep or think
And your minds wrapped around
A single lovely face.

When it seems your stuck,
Being there as a friend,
When your hoping for something more
And you stay by their side,
No matter how far,
The friendship doesn't soar.

What can you say?
To make someone believe
That what your feeling is real?
How to save a life
And mend a lonely heart
And you hope they just need to heal.

POEM

read by Zac

The torrid times of our recent past
Prove too true how life changes fast;
And through tears cried, and wails bemoaned,
The only important point to take home
Is the love that lives in the happy memories,
Warm smiles of faces lost in yesteryears memory.

The stories of those whose lives we shared
Give meaning and substance to our frail existence
- one that's meant to test our patience.
But with family; our cares ease as grief is shared,
And at peace now may you rest,
with those whose lives you shared.

POEM TO MUM

Mother's Garden

read by Karen

My mother kept a garden, a garden of the heart.
She planted all the good things that gave my life its start.
She turned me to the sunshine and encouraged me to dream.
Fostering and nurturing the seeds of self-esteem.
And when the winds and rains came, she protected me enough –
But not too much – she knew I'd need to stand up strong and tough.
Her constant good example always taught me right from wrong -
Markers for my pathway that will last a lifetime long.
I am my mother's garden. I am her legacy -
And hope today she feels the love reflected back from me.

CLOSING WORDS AND COMMITTAL

SERVICE LITANY

When we are weary and in need of strength,
When we are lost and sick at heart,

We remember you.

When we have a joy we crave to share
When we have decisions that are difficult to make
When we have achievements that are based on her

We remember you.

At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter
At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring,

We remember you.

At the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer
At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn,

We remember you.

At the rising of the sun and at its setting,

We remember you.

As long as we live, Sandra too will live
For she is now a part of us, As we remember her.
