OPENING WORDS

POEM

God's Garden

God looked around his garden
And found an empty place,
He then looked down upon the earth
And saw your tired face.

He put his arms around you
And lifted you to rest.
God's Garden must be beautiful,
He always takes the best.

He knew that you were suffering,
He knew you were in pain,
He knew that you would never Get well on earth again.

He saw the road was getting rough
And the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyelids
And whispered, 'Peace be thine.'

It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.

POEM

Dust If You Must

Dust if you must, but wouldn't it be better to paint a picture or write a letter, bake a cake or plant a seed,
ponder the difference between want and need?

Dust if you must, but there's not much time,
with rivers to swim and mountains to climb,
music to hear and books to read,
friends to cherish and life to lead.

Dust if you must, but the world's out there with the sun in your eyes, the wind in your hair, a flutter of snow, a shower of rain.

This day will not come round again.

Dust if you must, but bear in mind,
old age will come and it's not always kind.
And when you go - and go you must - you, yourself, will make more dust.
