Poem

It's Been A Ball

by Mary Smith

I've left this message as a little rhyme
Because I didn't want folks grieving.
So let me tell you, before I start,
If anyone cries I'm leaving!
I've had my day and now it's done
And I'm off to pastures new,
So just recall my brightest memories,
Don't let my wake be blue.
There's been many happy memories
And many happy years.
So remember the laughs and the good times,
Not those that bring on tears.
So here's what I say as I'm going away,
I've loved and liked you all.
Through the laughs and the tears,
Over all of the years,
Looking back, it's been a ball.

Happiness

by Ken Dodd

The happy couple

Don't wait for your chance to be handed to you,
 Wrapped up and tied with a bow,
But keep on the job with your goal in view
 And learn all there is to know.

 Be up and doing and do your best,
 With the duties of every day,
 And fit yourself for the final test
When the big chance comes your way.

 So stay alert and wait for your chance,
 But work while you are waiting too,
For there is no such thing as luck or fate:
 The whole thing is up to you.

Don't make excuses for missing your chance,
 Or say that it never came,
For those who know can tell at a glance,
That you are looking for something to blame.

 Sit tight and watch, keep wide awake,
For your chance may be near, not far:
 And when it comes for you to take,
 Just grab it - and there you are!

The family would like to thank you all for being here today and for your messages of love and support at this sad time.

You are warmly invited to join them, after the service, at Redgate Inn, Westfield Lane, Mansfield, NG19 6EH.
