Opening Words

Poem
Still There

A whisper in the wind,
A shadow on the wall,
The feeling that someone is there
But no answer to your call.

A kind of warmth when days are cold,
A hand held out to guide,
A glow that lights the darkest night,
A presence by your side.

If these things happen, curb your fears,
Just smile a knowing smile.
It's me, you see, watching over you
Across the coming years.

Poem

Thy Will Be Done

by Dorothy Frances Gurney (1858-1932)

You left quietly without a fuss.
You always had a smile to share,
A laugh, a joke,
A time to care.

A wonderful nature,
Warm and true,
These are the memories
I have of you.

A beautiful life
Came to an end;
You died as you lived,
Everyone's friend.

You gave me years of happiness,
Then sorrow came with tears.
You left me lovely memories
I will treasure through the years.
