Poem

Coastline, rocky, rugged, proud,
Climbing cliffs in ozone shroud,
Sun-kissed drifts of desert sand,
Golden frame of a sea cradled land.

Fishing village, atmospheric hub,
Brass band playing outside quaint pub,
Boats, all sizes, rest near harbour wall,
Wading birds sift through tide filled pool.

Foliage explosion of a Cornish hedge,
Country lanes snake and young birds fledge,
Ruminants, punctuating quilted hill,
Buzzards soar and wise hares are still.

The mine engine house, towering stack,
Roof caved in, gorse and bracken's back,
White clay peak, geometrical and sleek,
Earth's rich gouged, canyon deep.

Moor land, open, untamed, granite strewn,
Wild ponies dance to a skylark's tune,
Tor and beacon, barrow and mound,
You're in God's own country
When you walk this ground.

Love Is All Around - Wet Wet Wet

"If ever there is a tomorrow when we're not together, there is something you must always remember. You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think. But the most important thing is, even if we're apart, I'll always be with you."

A. A. Milne
