POEM

You Never Said Goodbye
chosen by Yasmin

You never said, 'I'm leaving,'
You never said goodbye.
You were gone before I knew it,
And only God knew why.

A million times I needed you,
A million times I cried,
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.

In life I loved you dearly,
In death I love you still,
In my heart you hold a place
That no one could ever fill.

It broke my heart to lose you
But you didn't go alone,
For part of me went with you
The day God took you home.

'TO MY BROTHER'

Words from Robert

When you lose someone close, people ask, "How are you?" It's hard to put into words the deepest sense of loss that immediately overwhelms you when you learn of the passing of someone close, so you just say, "I'm getting there." Then you console yourself with the reality that tomorrow morning, the sun will rise, a new day begins and the world keeps turning.

I have lost my big brother, gone too soon and he'll be missed. He was my sparring partner and we were a formidable team, the best by a mile. No one could match us for instant wit or speed of retort, but more than that, he was my brother, and brothers have a special bond; once made, it can never be broken. He was not only my brother, he was the father to my nieces and uncle to my sons and nephews, and he was also a good person. I'm not the only one who has suffered this loss - the world has lost a good person, a principled person, a generous person.

All of us today say goodbye to Peter because he touched our lives and he tried to make them better in his own way. So we are all blessed to have had him in our lives. Now, if we keep him in our hearts, I know he'll do his best and give his all to help us get 'there'.

POEM

My Brother
read by Sharon

As kids, we lived together,
We fought, we laughed, we cried.
We did not always show the love
That we both had inside.
We shared our dreams and plans
And some secrets, too.
All the memories we share
Are what bond me now to you.
We grew to find we have a love
That is very strong today.
It's a love shared by our family
That will never fade away.
You are my brother not by choice,
But by the nature of our birth.
I could not have chosen a better one;
You were the best on earth.
