POEM

Do Not Stand At My Grave And Weep

Do not stand by my grave and weep, for I, John Howells, do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow, I am the diamond glint on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain, I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you wake in the morning's hush, I am the swift uplifting rush
Of quiet birds in circled flight; I am the stars that shine at night.
When you stand by the edge of the sea, quietly and fondly remember me.
Please raise a glass and say, with cheer, I know a gentleman who once rested here.
Do not stand by my grave and cry, I am not there, I did not die.
