WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

POEM

I'm There Inside Your Heart
read by Kevin Greenfield

Right now I'm in a different place
And though we seem apart,
I'm closer than I ever was,
I'm there inside your heart.

I'm with you when you greet each day
And while the sun shines bright,
I'm there to share the sunsets, too,
I'm with you every night.

I'm with you when the times are good
To share a laugh or two,
And if a tear should start to fall,
I'll still be there for you.

And when that day arrives
That we no longer are apart,
I'll smile and hold you close to me,
Forever in my heart.

POEM

read by Sandra Overton

Think of Pete as one at rest, for him you should not weep.
He has no pain, no troubled thoughts, for he is just asleep.
The living, thinking him that was, is now forever still,
And life goes on without him now, as time forever will.

If your heart is heavy now because he's gone away,
Dwell not long upon it, dear friends, for none of us can stay.
Those of you who liked him, he sincerely thanks you all
And of those who have loved him, he thanks you most of all.

And in his fleeting life, as time went rushing by,
He found some time to hesitate, to laugh, to love, to cry.
So, goodnight to his dear dear friends,
Just remember he has loved you all.

A POEM FOR GRANDDAD

read by Romilly

We little knew the day that it broke our hearts to lose you,
But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

You left us precious memories,
With love still our guide,
And though we cannot see you,
You are always by our side.

Our family chain is broken
And nothing seems the same,
But God calls us one by one,
When the chain will link again.
