

Peter John Tuffin 'Pete'

29th July 1940 - 22nd January 2021

A misty, hazy landscape with rolling hills and a small building in the distance. The scene is captured in a soft, ethereal light, with the hills and sky blending into a pale, overcast sky. The foreground shows the texture of the grass on the hills.

WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

HYMN

The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want;
He makes me down to lie
In pastures green; He leadeth me
The quiet waters by.

My soul He doth restore again,
And me to walk doth make
Within the paths of righteousness,
E'en for His own name's sake.

Goodness and mercy all my life
Shall surely follow me;
And in God's house for evermore
My dwelling-place shall be.

Scottish Psalter (1650)

Tune: Crimond

The background of the entire page is a soft-focus, golden-hour landscape. It features rolling hills in the foreground and middle ground, leading to a coastline with a body of water and distant mountains under a hazy, warm sky. The overall color palette is dominated by warm, muted tones of yellow, orange, and brown.

POEM

He Is Gone

by David Harkins

You can shed tears that he is gone,
Or you can smile because he has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that he will come back,
Or you can open your eyes and see all that he has left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him,
Or you can be full of the love that you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him and only that he is gone,
Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back,
Or you can do what he would want: smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

CLOSING WORDS

FAREWELL AND COMMITTAL

A GAELIC BLESSING

May the road rise up to meet you.
May the wind be always at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face;
the rains fall soft upon your fields, and until we meet again,
may God hold you in the palm of His hand.
