WELCOME AND OPENING WORDS

POEM

She Is Gone

You can shed tears that she is gone,
Or you can smile because she has lived.
You can close your eyes and pray that she will come back,
Or you can open your eyes and see all that she has left.
Your heart can be empty because you can't see her,
Or you can be full of the love that you shared.
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.
You can remember her and only that she is gone,
Or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.
You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back.
Or you can do what she would want: smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

REMEMBERING GILL

POEM

Seashells and sand, the best place to be,
Walking and playing with the children by the sea.

The sound of the waves, the warmth of the sun,
the wide open space,
Being by the sea was Gill's happy place.

Water fights in the garden, badminton net up,
lots of games with the ball,
It was about fun being had by us all.

Barbecuing in the rain, the ice bucket challenge,
on a weekend away
For a Ruby anniversary, celebrating the special day.

Taken from us too quickly, loved by us all, an amazing mum, grandma, sister and friend.

You were so brave and strong, you fought until the end.

The fun and the laughter, we were lucky enough to share together,
The memories we have will stay with us forever.

POEM

Something Beautiful Remains

The tide recedes
But leaves behind
Bright seashells on the sand.

The sun goes down
But gentle warmth
Still lingers on the land.

The music stops
And yet it lingers on
In sweet refrain.

For every joy that passes,
Something beautiful remains.
