INTRODUCTION

POEM

'She Is Gone'

Read By Evelyn Jamieson, Katherine's Auntie

You can shed tears that she is gone
Or you can smile because she has lived
You can close your eyes and pray that she will come back
Or you can open your eyes and see all that she has left
Your heart can be empty because you can't see her
Or you can be full of the love that you shared
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday
You can remember her and only that she is gone
Or you can cherish her memory and let it live on
You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back
Or you can do what she would want: smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

WORDS OF COMFORT

KATHERINE'S POEM

Written And Read By Nikki Harris

On 17th July 1981, the pitter patter of tiny feet,
First Michael, now Katherine,
The Richardson Family complete.

St. Gregory's and Maricourt were the Playgrounds she knew,
Entertaining her friends,
Having fun through and through.

Into the working world when the time came,
With a detour to Uni,
And the odd drinking game.

Corona and lime and Bacardi and coke,
Followed by a chance Burger King meeting with a Handsome Southport bloke.

There followed a courtship, And in Disneyland
Mark got down on one knee,
Their happiness and love for
Each other so clear to see.

The wedding, Aloha! Her ivory flowing frock,
On 24th April 2015 Katherine became Mrs Wilcock.

On the shores of Hawaii, Kat and Mark said I
Do! While family and friends shouted Shaka,
Next to the ocean so blue.

Their love for each other had felt no other,
Until on 2nd August 2016,
Katherine became a mother.

Beautiful and longed for,
Margot safely arrived,
And in their new roles as parents,
Kat and Mark simply thrived.

Without warning, cruel fate intervened,
And for reasons unknown,
The Angels came calling,
And God took her home.

A beautiful Wife, Mother, Daughter
Grandaughter, Niece, Cousin and our friend,
She was simply adored,
I pray all our hearts mend.
