Poem

A mother is more than a memory.

She is a living presence.

Your mother is always with you.

Your mother lives inside your laughter, and she crystalises every teardrop.
A mother shows every emotion, happiness, sadness, fear, jealousy, love, hate, Anger, helplessness, excitement, joy, sorrow, and all the while hoping and Praying you will only know the good feelings in life.

She is the place you come from. Your first home.

She is the map you follow with every step you take.

She is your first love, first friend and even your first enemy.

But nothing, nothing here on earth, nor in the heavens can separate you.

Not time. Not space. Not even death.

She is the whisper of the leaves as you walk down the street.

She is the smell of certain foods you remember, the perfume that she wore
When her arms wrapped around you with love.

She is the cool hand on your brow when you are not feeling well.

She is your breath on the air on a cold winter's day.

She is the sound of the rain that lulls you to sleep

And the colour of a rainbow glittering in the light.

She is Christmas morning.

She is the warmth of a blanket on a cool winter's night.

She is the warmth splashed across the sky, as the sun rises for a new day.

She is the light of the stars, shining in the darkest of nights.

She is the quiet strength in your deep breath as you face the day.

When tomorrow starts without her, though not here to touch or see, s

She is with you, and she always, always loves you.

A mother is more than a memory.

Over The Rainbow
by Eva Cassidy

The Lord's Prayer
Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be Thy name;
Thy Kingdom come;
Thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For Thine is the Kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever.
Amen.
